Here at SolidRun, we are dedicated members of the open source community. All of our software and hardware are created with open licenses – meaning anyone can use or alter them as they wish. In fact, we highly encourage you to take what we’ve done and improve upon it!

One of the bedrocks of the open source community is the widespread support available amongst the members. Everyone is working towards the advancement of all, and the spirit of helping one another is one of the most inspiring things we’ve ever met.
